Here is a novel Christmas gift exchange idea... you can use White Elephant types of gifts, or gifts that are suitable for either males or females and in a price range that all the participants agree upon ahead of time - the Left/Right Pass-Around Gift Exchange Game.

Everyone sits in a circle holding a gift. Someone reads a Christmas-themed story that includes the words "left and "right" several times each. The story below is one possible variation, a variation on the traditional Christmas tale, "Twas the Night Before Christmas."

Every time the guests hear "left" in the story, they pass their gift to the left; every time they hear the word "right", they pass it to the right. At the end of the game, everyone gets to unwrap the gift they're holding!

Twas the night RIGHT before Christmas when RIGHT through the house,
Not a creature was LEFT stirring, not even a mouse.
The stockings were hung RIGHT by the chimney with care, in hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be RIGHT there.
The children were nestled RIGHT snug in their beds, while visions of sugarplums danced RIGHT in their heads,
And mama in her kerchief, and I in my cap,
had just settled RIGHT down for a long winter's nap,
When RIGHT out on the LEFT lawn there rose such a clatter,
I sprang RIGHT from my bed to see what was the matter.
Away to the RIGHT window I LEFT like a flash;
tore open the shutters and threw up the sash.
The moon on the breast of the new-fallen snow
LEFT a luster of midday to objects RIGHT below.
When, what to my wondering eyes should appear,
but a miniature sleight and eight tiny reindeer.
With a little old driver RIGHT lively and quick;
I knew RIGHT in a moment it must be St. Nick.
More rapid than eagles his coursers they came;
and he whistled and shouted, and called them RIGHT by name:
"Now, Dasher! Now, Dancer! Now, Prancer and Vixen!
On Comet, on Cupid, on Donner and Blitzen!
To the RIGHT top of the porch! To the LEFT top of the wall!

Now dash away, dash away, dash RIGHT away all!"
As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly, when they meet RIGHT with an obstacle, mount RIGHT up to the sky,
So up to the housetop the coursers they LEFT flew, with a sleighful of toys and St. Nicholas, too.
And then in a twinkling, I heard RIGHT on the roof, the prancing and pawing of each little RIGHT and LEFT hoof.
As I drew in my head and was turning LEFT around - down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound.
He was dressed all in fur, RIGHT from his head to his LEFT foot, and his clothes were LEFT all tarnished with ashes and soot.
A bundle of toys he had flung RIGHT on his back, and he looked like a peddler just opening his pack.
His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry!
His droll little mouth was LEFT drawn up like a bow, and the beard LEFT on his chin was as white as the snow.
The stump of a pipe he held RIGHT in his teeth, and the smoke it encircled his head LEFT around like a wreath.
He had a broad face and a round little belly, that shook when he laughed, like a bowl full of jelly.
He was RIGHT chubby and plump, a RIGHT, RIGHT jolly old elf, and I laughed when I saw him in spite of myself.
A wink of his LEFT eye and a LEFT twist of his head, soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread.
He spoke not a word, but went RIGHT straight to his work, and filled all the stockings; then turned LEFT with a jerk,
And laying his finger to the LEFT of his nose, and giving a nod, he LEFT - up the chimney he rose.
He sprang RIGHT to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle, and away they all LEFT like the down of a thistle.
But I heard him exclaim, ere he LEFT - RIGHT out of sight,
"Happy Christmas to all - and to all a good night!"
